Chemists' Show Bottles.

Formerly apothecaries used a rec' light as a sign of their trade. Now it happened one night that a drug-gist, finding himself without the necessary red light, made shift wit. u bottle of red liquid placed in the window with a candle The effect was so good that he put a similar decoration in another wit. dow. The sign was excellent-50 excellent that a rival apothecary tried to improve upon it for his own benefit. His idea was to place a bottle of yellow liquid beside the a bottle or yellow liquin beside the feed one, and then he surpassed his former effort by adding a bottle containing green to the other two. The red, yellow and green made a fine show, and every draggist in the town followed in the wake of their town followed in the wake of their contact and the same an are now a familiar sign everywhere.

WHEN A PYTHON KILLS.

Painless Seath Without Terrer For

when I was a youngster in India a friend give me an Indian python a friend give me an Indian python awaltoned by the bulges in its taus taine to hundle, but it was a length. It would be torpid fill Friendll, uninteresting thing, and we day, gradually wake up and be hundled in its gry Sanday.

Can there be any doubt, with its resting place, an old beer cheet, with pars at the top. It was over ten or eleven feet long, so it was never ex-tended. It used lazily to change its position, but seemed to prefer complate rest even waen wakeful. We used to give it six live rate of a Sun-day. When not baving been fed for a week, it would be moving about, but was never quick and lively, One rat at a time was put into the cage and hever seemed scared or dis-turbed, but just moved about in the open places and sometimes even on the snake. The latter for a time took no notice. Then it would wake up and slowly work itself into posi-tion with more motion, particularly in the head and neck for about two

The quickness with which it then struck and seized its prey was won-derful. In tess than a moment the est was tacked into a fold and rat was tacked into a fold and aqueezed tight, being instantly kill-ed without any apparent fear or an-ticipation of death. It was far more account and natural than a steel trap.

After waiting several minutes before changing the position to feed, the python would slowly move and get the dead rat straight end on, re-lax its grip and gradually swallow the prey until it came to the first kink at the end of the first fold, when the position had to be changed to pass the rat farther down, the same process being repeated with such rat, getting slower at each monthful until it had swallowed five. It never ate the sixth, which was the rapid movements and constricting power, the python's victim is a stantly cought, enveloped in a coil and at once killed? No enake can afford to risk a struggle, for if the skin is injured, the natives state, according to the course for each snake recovers from such a wound for the ants and flies will torment it to death .-- London Field.

When "Cinderella" is produced as a pautomine in the theaters or as a spectacle in circuses the charactors are always dressed in either the costumes of Charles I, or George Il., and most people wonder what was the nationality of this young lady or the period in which she lived. She was an Egyptian by birth, and her name was Rhodove. She was very beautiful and lived during the reign of one of the twelve kings of Egypt. One day she went to bathe in a heautiful river and left her shees, which were sort sould on the healt thread very small, on the bank thereof. An eagle pounced down upon them and note one of them off in his talone and, acting the part of the fairy seedmother, when flying over Memphis, where the king was staying, lot it full directly at his feet. Its small size and beauty attracted the attention of the sovereign, and he immediately dispatched envoys to discover its owner. Rhodope was eventually found and was carried to Memphia in triumph, where she be-came the queen of King Assumeti-cus.—London Standard.

The Satisfaction of My Clothes Do Not Wear Off With their Newness

That's the way with some much-touted Clothing, but when you buy a sult from me, you can safely count on getting one, and sometime two, seasons of excellent wear out of it.

They're correct in style, too; and in all those little details that you can't see, but which help to proclaim them the ideal clothes for see.

But don't think that just because they're better clothes I demand a higher price for them. On the contrary they're cheaper. Cheap because they will always look better and last longer than the clothes you would get elsewhere at the same or even a higher price. In a wo they're Hamburger Bros. & Co. and Royal Brand Clothes.
